

Welcome to your conference!

It is with great pleasure that the Instituto Cultural Dominico-Americano announces its traditional Annual Conference for Teachers of English, an assembly promoting friendship and opportunities for professional development. This is an excellent occasion for professionals in the field of ELT to get together and exchange ideas and experiences.

This year's conference is entitled:

“Seizing opportunities in ELT”

Thursday, June 15th, 2017, 8:00 am to 6 pm
Convention Center, Hotel Dominican Fiesta

A variety of plenary and concurrent workshop sessions, as well as exhibitors' displays will be available, showing new resources and tools to enhance English Language Teaching. The Dominico family would be delighted to have you as a distinguished participant to the event held on the year that marks the 70th anniversary of the ICDA serving the community.

Participants will enjoy interactive activities and workshop sessions related to their professional interests. There will be space for enjoyment and opportunities to share with our fellow teachers from different institutions.

Our conference will feature various plenary and academic sessions conducted by Dudley Reynolds, Josephine Kennedy, Rick Rosenberg, Eleanor Hennings and Mary Scholl, highly qualified experts in the field of English Language teaching. We will also offer applied knowledge sessions conducted by trainers of trainers with a vast experience.

Registration is open for all participants.
